OLD BUSINESS (PUBLIC SPEAKS): Reviewed Pending Issues from Public Speaks

PUBLIC SPEAKS (CITY BUSINESS): Bruce Nordman wished everyone a Merry Christmas, Happy Hanukkah, and a Blessed Kwanza. He stated that it was good to be back since he has missed a few meetings. He urged Council to pass the Ordinance regarding the Hall of Fame Village. He thinks this project will tie in nicely with the Onesto and other projects that the City is working on. He compared it all to Cooperstown and thinks it will be just as nice. He stated that he was proud of the City. He thanked Saf. Dir. Perry and Chief Lawver for scheduling the safety meetings; however, he was disappointed that only a dozen people have shown up. He thinks that since the Police Department is trying to be proactive, everyone should show up. Terrence Jones stated that the last time he was at a Council Meeting, he was the Director of Multi Development. He stated that on October 7th, he was on his way to Crenshaw Middle School when he noticed a police car with a bunch of kids surrounding it. He stated that he was a little nervous and inquisitive about what could be happening. As he approached the car, he noticed that the Police Officer was tossing a ball around with the children. He said that he was shocked but very happy because this officer may be the only male role model that some of those children have, and at some point in the future, it might be that officer who is able to talk that child out of committing a crime. He also stated that he thought the bike give-away was a fantastic thing for the kids in the neighborhoods and that instead of those kids sitting in front of a television next summer, there will be more kids outside riding their bikes. He thanked the Police for their in-kind and financial support. He also stated that there are people watching and commend them for their efforts. Kimberly Pantoya stated that her son had taken his own life three weeks ago and that the Canton Police Department didn't notify her. She said they took 25 minutes to go into the home to find him and that they didn't give the Coroner the young man's phone or journal which had his personal information. Her son died at 8:44 a.m. and she didn't find out until 3:30 p.m. on Facebook. She wants some protocols put in place to notify families if there is a suicide because they have a right to be notified. She stated that the Coroner looked on Facebook for identification, saw that her son worked at Taco Bell. He notified Taco Bell, who in turn called the parents. By that time she had already seen the Facebook entry about her son's suicide. She stated that during that same week, another boy committed suicide and hoped that his parents didn't have to find out on Facebook. She said that she called the City and everybody just passed the buck. She wants someone to take responsibility.

He also said that since he will be dealing in opinions, instead of reporting, that he wanted to offer that Matt keep his phone number in case he's curious as to what is a good opinion and what is a bad opinion, and he would let him know. He also welcomed Allison, who will be taking Matt's place. Mayor Healy followed up on the bike give-away. The Organization that gave the bikes away was called Elves and More. This was the 9th or 10th year that they have done this in Northeast Ohio, but the first time in Canton. There were volunteers from the Akron and Canton Police Department. The Canton Fire Department also helped and he wanted them to get recognized. The City supported but only in a secondary role. The Organization did the work over many weeks where they bought the bikes and got over 100 volunteers to assemble them. They brought in 16 semi tractor trailers full of bikes. It was a joy for the community. He thanked the Canton Police and Fire Departments, as well as the Akron Police Department and Elves and More who made this happen.
